

Nuggets to Nourish a Mama's heart

- Focus first on your own heart. As you grow in godliness, you set the example for your children to do the same.
- Focus on the Holy Spirit within YOU, allowing Him to change and transform you from the inside out.
- Pray that God would fill in the gap between the humanness of your parenting and His perfect will.
- If someone offers to help you with something, LET THEM!
- Relationships are more important than rules.
- Don't remove your love or approval when your child makes a mistake or an undesirable choice.
- Trust only in God, in all things, at all times, even when life is hard!
